CNC strengthens regional operations with two senior appointments

Dubai, June 24, 2015: CNC Communications & Network Consulting (formerly known as Capital MSL) has strengthened its operations in the Middle East with two senior appointments. Nitin Nambiar and Gillian Cockerill have joined CNC's Middle East offices as Senior Consultants to provide strategic counsel on key client accounts and work alongside co-MD's David Kingsmill-Moore and Noha Habib to grow the firm's business across the GCC.

Nitin brings over 10 years' experience gained in communications and financial advisory across the Middle East, Europe and North America. He has spent seven years in the Gulf, based in the UAE, initially with Dubai Media Incorporated and later as Associate Director at an international agency in the UAE. Nitin joins CNC from the World Bank Group in Washington DC, United States, where he served as Communications Lead within the bank's Finance and Markets Practice. He has previously served as Investment Associate with Credit Suisse, based in Zurich, Switzerland.

Working across global communications consultancies out of London, Gillian brings to the region a best practise approach to client mandates. Having worked with leading brands for 15 years, Gillian's focus is creating integrated, strategic communications campaigns that have a positive impact on brand reputation. With experience spanning corporates and global blue-chips, her skills lie in delivering quality results at a local, regional and international level.

David Kingsmill-Moore, Managing Director of CNC Communications Middle East commented on the appointment today saying, "Nitin and Gillian join us at an opportune time as we continue to reinforce our presence in the region with new client mandates. As Senior Consultants with considerable exposure to mature markets in the West and emerging markets in the GCC, both Nitin and Gillian bring valuable advisory capabilities and high-quality experience. Both will be incredibly strategic assets for CNC in the region as we go from strength to strength."
